LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Foster Johnson of Little Rock got the endorsement of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education here Saturday over incumbent Sen. John L. McClellan.

To rousing laughter and applause, Johnson said, "I don't think my opponent is here because I don't think you'd let him in."

The committee met to consider qualifications of congressional candidates and endorsed two incumbents—Rep. Wilbur Mills in the 2nd District and Rep. J. W. Trimble in the 3rd District.

Lee Ward of Jonesboro was chosen in his 1st district race against incumbent F. C. Gathings of West Memphis.

All candidates were invited but none of the incumbents appeared.

After hearing the candidates, COPE started to reprimand a Pine Bluff labor group for endorsing a candidate. It backed off, however, when a question arose over whether such an endorsement was made.

Delegates from the group, the Jefferson County Trades Council, denied that it was. The council was accused of endorsing Dean Murphy of Texarkana.

David Burleson of Fayetteville, a candidate in the 3rd District against Trimble and Jim Evans of Hot Springs, was the only aspirant who failed to appear.

Mills' two opponents did appear — Jack Eardley and Arthur Mills, both of Little Rock.

So did the five 4th District candidates—Richard Arnold of Texarkana, Murphy, David Pryor, Camden, Charles Honey of Prescott and John Harris Jones of Pine Bluff.

The committee did not endorse any of the candidates in this race.

The National Guard can trace its history back to 1636, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

U.S. Wants Big Bite of Clay's Purse

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP)—Cassius Clay returns home Tuesday with two potential opponents in mind and an unbeatable foe in his future.

Clay mentioned both Doug Jones and West Germany's Karl Mildenberger as possible opponents for his next fight — which he said will be in about two months — after disposing of London's Henry Cooper in six rounds Saturday night.

Of perhaps more immediate concern to the unbeaten heavyweight champion, however, is the one guy even Cassius admits he can't take out.

"There's one who's too tough for me," Clay said. "Old Uncle Sam. I can't take him on."

And Uncle has some designs on Clay. First, the Internal Revenue Service wants about $115,000 of the reported $350,000 Clay received for the scheduled 15 rounder in an outdoor soccer stadium.

Then there's the matter of Clay's draft status, currently 1-A, which Cassius, alias Muhammad Ali, is appealing on the basis of religion and financial hardship. He's a Black Muslim and has appealed that he's a conscientious objector.

He echoed those sentiments after opening a 12-stitch cut over Cooper's left eye, a cut that pumped blood all over both fighters, spotted the ring, sprayed over ringside reporters and forced referee George Smith to stop it at 1:38 of the sixth round.

"I was sorry to see it end like that," Clay said. "I don't mind admitting I was a bit disturbed by all that blood. I didn't really want the violence to continue. I don't really like hurting anyone. It's against my religion.

Episcopal Brotherhood Is Formed Here

"It was terrible to see him cut so much. I didn't really relish hitting him when I saw the blood spurt."

Up until that point the 32-year-old Cooper had been doing very well, pressing the fight all the way, while Clay danced away in a clockwise motion, always moving away from Cooper's only real weapon — a left hand that knocked Cassius down in a non-title fight three years ago. Cassius came back to win that one on a fifth-round cut of Henry's tender eyes.

The Associated Press gave Henry the first two rounds, called the third even and gave the fourth and fifth to Clay. Under British rules, the referee is the only official and his card is never announced.

There were no knockdowns and no one was really hurt until Clay opened the cut.

Ike to Remain in Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to remain at Walter Reed General Hospital for a few more days, at least.

Army doctors said Thursday he is suffering from a type of arthritis called osteoarthritis.

It is defined as "a common usually mild, sometimes painful illness, occurring primarily with advancing age. Its cause is unknown, although it is essentially a result of wear and tear."

Turned down by Freemont's School Board, it was taken by New York City.

Records May Fall in the Speedway

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A field of 26 veterans and seven rookies, all but one in Grand Prix-style rear-engine cars, will carry a record speed potential into the Golden Anniversary 500-mile race May 30 at the old Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Two weekends of 10-mile qualifying runs, in which seven cars crashed into the concrete retaining wall, ended at dusk Sunday with a field averaging 160.251 miles per hour.

The average was more than five m.p.h. slower than the qualifying record of 165.89 set by Mario Andretti, the U.S. Auto Club champion, on opening day May 14. Jimmy Clark of Scotland, last year's winner, was the only qualifier in the same class with Andretti, 164.144 on the same day.

Clark set the race record of 150.686 and that evidently wouldn't be nearly good enough this year.

No drivers were injured on the second weekend of trials. Chuck Rodeo of Indianapolis was killed a week ago Saturday, bringing the total of fatalities at the Speedway to 57 since the track opened in 1909.

Oliver Cromwell was called the "uncrowned king of England."

Actress Declares Hubby Won't Work

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Joan Caulfield divorced Dr. Robert Peterson, a dentist, after telling the judge Thursday, "It gives you a feeling of indignation when you are married to a very talented, able man who won't work."

The blonde star also told the judge in Santa Monica, Calif., Peterson couldn't provide for his family much of the time because his office hours became increasingly infrequent.

"As a matter of fact, she said, 'I'm still trying to get an appointment to get my own teeth fixed.'"

The actress and dentist, each 42, were married in 1960.

HELEN HELP US!

— by Helen Bottel —

Woman Against Machine
Dear Helen: Not long ago you ran a letter from a woman who just couldn't make a computer see her side of it. We've all had this trouble? I'm currently ignoring a charge of 13 cents which a computer says I owe and I know I don't. It would be simple to send three nicks but I can be just as stubborn as a machine. I've pointed out already where the mistake was, but a computer "can do no wrong."

They can just keep billing me until 1977, if they want to, and cost of more each month than the bill. I'll show 'em!!!!

Anyway, I wonder if anyone really wins against a machine? Ignoring it isn't the answer. Is there some way to break through that awful barrier of superior silence, whomp up an argument, or get it to admit a mistake? — Felling Futile

Dear F.F.: I'm working on it, because I too "felt futile." After five months of one-sided correspondence with a credit company computer who was, and is, dead wrong, I finally realized the only way to argue with a machine is in its own language.

So we had our son, a college business major, take a similar monster in hand and punch out a whole letter to my erring computer in language it will (hopefully) understand. It took 30 cards, filled with modern hieroglyphics which, he assures me, any similar computer can read on its "printer." (Even a dumb machine like the one I have been pleading with since Christmas.)

The cards, when run through a "translator" say:
Attention — Computer Machine — Since you will not acknowledge my human replies to your unreasonable bill, I have resorted to battle you on your own grounds.
To Wit — I owe you nothing.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

Three Records Fall in State Track Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three state records fell in the 1966 Meet of Champions here Saturday.

Pete Lenox of Camden cleared 14-3 in the pole vault, bettering the state and meet marks by eight inches. Gary Carter of Fayetteville, who placed second, also surpassed the mark with a 14-1 1/4 leap.

The 880-yard relay team from Little Rock Central knocked two-tenths of a second off the best time for that event with a 1:28.5, and the third record was set by Crossett's Karl Salb with a 61-1 1/4 toss in the shot put.

An upset in the discus cost Salb a double for the day.

Mike Maxwell of West Memphis became the only winner of two individual events, taking the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. His 9.9 in the 100 was two-tenths above his best performance of the year and also that much off the state mark.

Chuck Jackson of Conway won the discus with a 160-2 throw, 17 feet off the meet mark. Salb's best of 156-8 was 10 feet less than an effort in the AA meet, in which Jackson was second to Salb.

Central's Richard Polk finished a full half-second ahead of his crosstown foe, Dennis Berner of Little Rock Hall, with a 14-flat in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Bryan Kellar of Fayetteville, the favorite in the high jump, cleared 6-2 1/2 to beat out Steve Foreman of Central at 6-1 1/4.

Central, as expected, took the 400-yard relay, but North Little Rock was only two-tenths of a second back with a 42.8. Only Central, North Little Rock and Russellville (last year) have run the event in under 43 seconds.

Winners of other events, with their performance followed by the record in parentheses:

Delbert Brooks of Central won the mile in 4:24 (4:21); Roy Duhart of Central the 440-dash in 48.9 (48.2); Berner of Hall the 180 low hurdles in 19.4 (18.8); Steve Pittman of Russellville the 880-yard run in 1:57.9 (1:53.9) and Little Rock Hall the mile relay in 3:21.1 (3:20.9).

Devlin Wins, Sikes Takes Second Money

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Are the foreigners taking over in American golf? It sure seemed like it after Bruce Devlin won the $110,000 Colonial National Invitation Sunday with an even par 280 for 72 holes.

Devlin, the lanky blond from Australia, ran up such a low score in the first three rounds of the Colonial that he could take a five-over-par 75 on the final day and still win by a stroke.

R. H. Sikes was five strokes behind starting the final round but was scarcely noticed as the fans concentrated on Gene Littler, three strokes back, as the player most likely to dislodge Devlin from the lead.

But Littler blew his chances with a triple bogey on the ninth hole when he was in the water.

Yankees Take Two, Making String Five

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two weeks ago when Ralph Houk took over the New York Yankees they were both going to pot.

Now only Houk is.

The new Yankee manager still can't climb into his old uniform but the Yankees have managed to climb into a tie for seventh place by putting together a five-game winning streak capped by Sunday's 5-3 and 2-1 sweep of the Minnesota Twins.

The twin triumphs were the 10th and 11th in 14 games under Houk, who took over the club from Johnny Keane in Los Angeles two weeks ago last Saturday, tried on his old No. 35 uniform and found that sitting behind a desk for two years had caused a pot belly.

He wore No. 51 in Los Angeles — the uniform belonged to Pete Mikkelsen, who had been traded — then phoned New York and asked the Yankees to get the No. 35 uniform tailored to his new measurements. Then he started to do a tailoring job on the Yankees.

He immediately designated Joe Pepitone the clean-up hitter, and the first baseman showed why against the Twins by driving in three runs in the opener and hitting a game-winning double in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

The Yankees still are 8 1/2 games behind the front-running Cleveland Indians, who swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 3-2 and 4-1. Elsewhere, Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2, Boston defeated Kansas City 5-1 and Washington downed California 6-2 before the Angels won the nightcap 2-1.

In the National League, Pittsburgh blanked Los Angeles 4-0, Philadelphia belted Houston 6-1, St. Louis edged Cincinnati 4-3, San Francisco shut out the New York Mets 5-0 before losing the second game 7-2 and the Chicago Cubs beat Atlanta 4-3 after the Braves took the opener 5-2.

The Indians broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning of the opener when Max Alvis singled, move up on a grounder and scored on Rocky Colavito's single. Fred Whitfield broke up the nightcap with a two-run double in a three-run seventh inning. John O'Donoghue got the second game victory with a three-hitter and now has four victories in as many games.

Don Wert drove in two of the Tigers' runs with squeeze bunts and the third crossed when pitcher Frank Bertina threw wild on the second bunt. The Orioles had a chance to tie it in the ninth but Frank Robinson was thrown out at the plate, Willie Horton to Bill Freehan, when he tried to score from second on a single by Brooks Robinson.

The Red Sox were held to one hit by Ralph Terry until they rushed across three runs in the seventh and broke a 1-1 tie. A ground rule double by Dalton Jones, who earlier homered, and Joe Foy's single produced the go-ahead run. Pitcher Earl Wilson also singled in a run, then went on to complete a four-hitter.

The Senators won their fifth straight in the opener with a three-run second inning uprising putting it out of reach. Jim King, Frank Howard and winning pitcher Pete Richert each drove in runs. Jimmy Piersall doubled in Tom Satriano with the decisive run in the fifth inning of the nightcap as the Angels snapped a six-game losing streak.

It was a symbol of Christianity in ancient times.

Aaron Hot But Braves Split; Cardinals Win

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher said what Harry Wendelstedt did to him was illegal. He could have said the same about Hank Aaron.

Wendelstedt, a rookie umpire in the National League, ejected Durocher from the opener of the Chicago-Atlanta doubleheader Sunday, marking the first time the Cubs' manager has been tossed out of a game this season.

Aaron was even rougher on Durocher, rapping four hits and driving in two runs as the Braves won the game 5-2. The Atlanta veteran came back with two more hits in the night cap, but the Cubs pulled it out 4-3.

Durocher, managing again after a nine-year absence from the top job, was thrown out at the start of the fourth inning.

Durocher explained that some of the Cubs were riding Wendelstedt, and the plate umpire came over to the dugout and threatened to eject Durocher if they didn't stop.

"I wasn't the one saying anything," Durocher said. "Why did he pick on me?"

Aaron picked on Durocher, too. He went into the doubleheader with three straight hits and extended his streak to eight, two away from the National League record, before Ernie Broglio struck him out in the fourth inning of the nightcap.

Aaron, batting 250 when the day started, raised his average to .279 by collecting six hits in seven at-bats. He lashed three singles and a double in the opener and two singles in the second game.

Elsewhere in the National League San Francisco blanked New York 5-0 before bowing 7-2, Pittsburgh stopped Los Angeles 4-0, Philadelphia whipped Houston 6-1 and St. Louis edged Cincinnati 4-3.

Torres Easy Winner, Like to Fight Clay

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If heavyweight king Cassius Clay runs out of opponents in his own division and is still available for boxing, he may find light heavyweight champion Jose Torres knocking on his door.

Torres, easy conqueror of Wayne Thornton in a title defense at Shea Stadium Saturday night, hinted he would like to take on Clay, who stopped Britain's Henry Cooper on cuts in the sixth round in London.

The 30-year-old ruler of the 175-pound class said he watched the telecast of Clay stopping Cooper and declared: "I had more trouble with Thornton than I would have with Clay."

Torres scored two first round knockdowns and soundly drubbed Thornton, the No. 1 contender from Fresno, Calif. in a brawl marred by the challenger's constant fouling.

The handsome, 26-year-old Californian broke every rule in the book, butted a small cut over Torres' right eye in the first round, and kept grabbing the champion's powerful left arm as if it was a loose $100 bill.

Cus D'Amato, former manager of ex-heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, and now one of Torres' advisors, said he was confident his 5-10, 175-pound protegee could beat the 6-3, 201-pound Clay.

Torres won the decision over the 174-pound Thornton by a lopsided margin. The officials had him ahead by the following round scores: Judges Al Berl and Artie Aidala, 10-41 each, and referee Johnny Lobbiano, 12-21. The AP card had it 13-2 for Torres.

Many People Today Wonder Whether Civilization Is Nutty or Whether They Are

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Many people today wonder whether civilization is nutty—or whether they are.
The suspicion is natural and healthy.
Just where do you really stand? How mentally and emotionally normal are you?
For folks who can't afford a psychiatrist's couch we've compiled a kind of poor man's sanity test.
Ask yourself these questions. But, remember, be absolutely honest.
Do you enjoy gossip, as long as it is about somebody else?
In reading about how someone held up a bank by pointing at the teller with his fist in a brown paper bag, do you sigh and wish you had the courage to try it, too?
Now then are you struck with the idea that someone or something is following you?
Do you keep your eyes wide open when you kiss your wife goodnight in the morning?
Are you convinced that your shoelaces never break except when you are in a desperate hurry?
Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?
If a younger man is promoted over you at the office, do you suspect it is because he has pulled, or toadied to the boss?

Do you feel the tax assessor unduly favors your neighbors, and your own home taxes are unfairly high?
If the office boy whistles cheerfully while sorting the mail do you scowl at him?
At least once a day does something happen to you that makes you want to hire a lawyer and file suit?
Are you morally sure that all politicians are liars, and all television repairmen and garage mechanics are playing you for a sucker?
Your kids don't appreciate you, do they? They don't know how easy they've got it, do they?
Do you feel nobody can really sympathize with your woes, because nobody knows the trouble you've seen?
Well, that is your sanity test. Now about your score. If your answer to every question was a thumping "Yes!"—well, cheer up. You are just as sane and normal as everyone else in your block.
Which leaves only one problem.
Just how nutty do you think they are?

McNamara Exposes Side Rarely Seen

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Since he became secretary of defense, many have viewed Robert S. McNamara as a kind of superefficient man-machine with a computer brain and a soul to match. But in two speeches within five days McNamara displayed a side rarely seen in public.
Before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Montreal Wednesday, he spoke in an idealistic and philosophic vein as he expounded the thesis that military hardware alone cannot assure security.
Sunday, before his daughter's graduating class in Pittsburgh, the defense secretary appeared as a defender of "freedom of dissent" — standing up for the right of campus protestors to demonstrate against the Viet Nam war even though, McNamara said, it is clear these actions give comfort to the enemy.
That Chatham College commencement speech — salted with historical and literary quotations and references — demonstrated a sympathy with the concern of some youths that man is becoming dominated by technology. He sought to dispel that fear.
"For many students," McNamara said at one point, "the computer has become the primordial symbol of mass impersonalization."
"It is ironic that this should be so," he continued, "considering the immense quantum of human drudgery — both mental and manual — that the computer has eliminated."
In most of his public appearances, such as the recent televised hearings of the Senate McNamara appears in the role of defender of his military policies and of U.S. prosecution of Foreign Relations Committee, the war in Viet Nam.
The country has read and heard his repeated claims that the United States has enough atomic weapons power to blast the Soviet Union and Red China together.
It knows McNamara as the management expert — the one-time Ford Motor Co. president who tamed the Pentagon and the quarrelsome armed services as no other secretary of defense before him could.
Testifying before congressional committees, speaking at news conferences and in other public forums McNamara often gives the impression of being harsh, impersonal, sometimes truculent and even autocratic. His critics call him "Supermac." One House committee has likened him to a Caesar.
He is very much aware of what is written about him, and of the way he comes across on television.
Is he trying to soften his public image?
An Aramaic dialect was the language spoken by Jesus.

Today's North-South cards show a probable club slam. Irrespective of the defense South will be able to make his own 10 tricks plus two more with dummy's queen and jack of hearts. When you look at the East-West cards you see that all three clubs are in one hand and that South won't be able to get to dummy for those two heart tricks.

Or will he? Assume that West leads out two diamonds. South ruffs the second diamond, leads one high trump and finds out then about the bad trump break. Then he cashes the ace and king of hearts and leads a low trump to dummy's eight. East makes an unexpected trick with his ten of trumps but South has an entry for the queen and jack of hearts. South doesn't make six but he does make his five-club contract.

South was an expert but he lost his contract anyway. There was nothing wrong with his play. It just seems that he talked too much.

As soon as the dummy hit the table South said, "It looks as if we didn't bid enough."

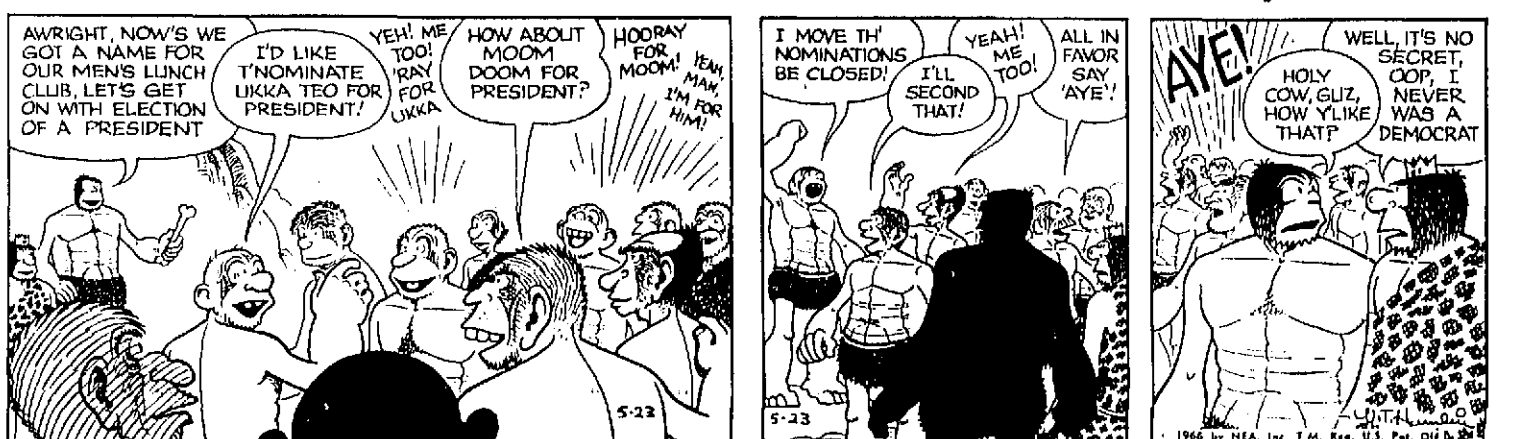

West almost had a second diamond on the table when he heard South's remark. Then he pulled the card back and stopped to think. South was impetuous but honest so that he never would have made the remark about missing six if he had a second diamond.

West thought awhile and led the five of spades. East's queen forced South's ace. The bad trump break, South's conversation and West's brilliance had combined to cost South his game.

Lumpy Bed But a Star Slept There

By BOB GASSAWAY

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (AP) — The bed was a lumpy air mattress tossed on top of an Army cot. There were 15,000 soldiers within shouting distance. But, it was the bed Ann-Margret slept on!

Ann-Margret, the red-haired night club singer and dancer, was in the U.S. 1st Cavalry Airborne, division's crude encampment near the little Vietnamese town of An Khe.

The battle-hardened troopers had named the tent the "An Khe Hilton."

It was a far-cry from any other Hilton. For air conditioning, you raised the tent flaps. Instead of a sofa there was a folding chair.

In the place of a down comforter, there were two scratchy blankets and one sheet.

But Ann-Margret slept here! That thought chased through my mind as I tossed and turned. My press card had earned me a night in the An Khe Hilton and there was a little booklet and hand lettering asking all guests to sign in.

There were colonels, captains, preachers, other newsmen, but up at the top — where it says print your name — on the first sheet was the bold script spelling out the name: "Ann-Margret."

Beside that, in the spot marked rank was printed "FEMALE." The date was March 15.

Ann-Margret had been in Viet Nam to entertain the troops.

Then that thought hit. At first it was maybe, but after a few seconds — even though there were two other cots in the tent, both of them now filled with snoring men — I knew this had to be the one Ann-Margret slept on.

It didn't matter that it had been 49 nights earlier.

I'm sleeping in Ann-Margret's bed. That was the last thought I had before the cot melted into a thick, fluffy mattress fit for a star.

The next morning — just to be sure — I stopped the nearest uniformed body.

"Ann-Margret never slept here," he said with a puzzled look on his face. "What are you talking about?"

"Well, her name's on the guest list in the An Khe Hilton over there."

"Aw, she didn't stay here. She just used that for a dressing room when she was here to do a show, and then she flew on out."

All children in Iceland are required to learn to swim.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — For a few lovely minutes Thursday night it seemed like old times, a night when everything was working well on "That Was the Week That Was."

But Thursday night's show was an NBC one-shot called "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the White House," a curious mélange of old, funny newsreel clips and some new, funny topical satire. The result was, generally, a refreshing program spotlighting American politics and politicians. It was reassuring to find that television has not forgotten how to be reverent.

There were bits from old newsreels showing candidates for high office surrounded by clawing, pawing crowds as the television soundtrack played the Beatles' "I Want to Hold Your Hand." There were other bits showing acutely uncomfortable candidates for the presidency, from Calvin Coolidge forward, looking foolish in Indian head-dresses and cautiously puffing a peace pipe for the photographers.

A lot of effort went into matching up films of political orators so that they were apparently singing the words of "If I Ruled the World," a gallery that ranged from Richard M. Nixon and Robert F. Kennedy to Charles de Gaulle.

Rerun were some priceless films. There was Harry S. Truman doing his imitation of the late H. V. Kaltenborn predicting Thomas E. Dewey's election. There was the delegate from Puerto Rico at the 1952 Republican Convention demanding a poll of the three-man delegation.

The hour also marked the return to network television of Jack Paar, who seemed nervous and self-conscious as host and whose monologue was not up to his old variety hour standards.

For some reason the show was taped before a boisterous studio audience whose roars of laughter sometimes obscured the dialogue and at other moments was merely distracting.

THE WELL CHILD

Purpura Victims May Need Surgery

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A mother writes that her 3-year-old son gets black-and-blue spots on his legs and hips with swelling of his knees and ankles. His doctor diagnosed idiopathic thrombopenic purpura and said that an allergy to foods was the most likely cause. The mother wants to know if any other cause is possible and whether this disease will lead to leukemia.

Idiopathic (of unknown cause) thrombopenia is a disease in which hemorrhages under the skin are associated with a deficiency of blood platelets. There are several theories as to its cause. It is more often caused by various drugs than by food allergy but this child was probably not taking any kind of medicine.

Recent studies show that in many cases the disease is due to a parental mismatching similar to that seen in Rh sensitization. Drugs of the cortisone group help some victims but, when this fails, removal of the spleen may be necessary.

Q—My 5-year-old son cries at the slightest thing and is getting worse. Last night his father put him to bed without any supper because he would not stop crying over not being allowed to bring a toy to the table. What can we do to bring him out of this annoying habit?

A—A child who becomes a crybaby has usually been overprotected and has an abnormal feeling of dependency for his age. You must show him that you love him but at the same time refuse to sympathize with his bids for your pity.

Discipline is essential for all children, well or sick, and bringing toys to the table must be nipped in the bud. I am, however, violently opposed to depriving a child of his food as a means of punishment. Even the condemned man about to be executed is allowed to have a hearty meal. A child should be sent away from the table only when he refuses to eat what is set before him.

Q—My 9-year-old daughter has been bleeding from her kidneys since July. In the hospital they found she had tuberculosis of her right kidney. Can this bleeding cause cancer? What can be done to cure her?

A—Bleeding from the kidneys is always serious. Cancer of the kidney would cause bleeding but in your daughter's case the tuberculosis would account for it. Intensive treatment with modern antituberculous drugs should cure her, but if the damage is too great she may have to have the right kidney removed.

Many Descendants of Presidents

BOSTON (AP) — Descendants of three American presidents and a cousin if a fourth attended the dedication of a 22-story state office building recently.

Taking part in the planting of four "presidential trees" honoring four men from Massachusetts who served as president were:

John Coolidge, son of Calvin Coolidge; John Quincy Adams and Charles Francis Adams, descendants of John Adams and John Quincy Adams; and Robert Fitzgerald, a first cousin of John F. Kennedy.

Looking Into Your Luggage

Scene: the customs office at any point of entry into the United States. In plain sight of whoever cares to look, a customs inspector opens a suitcase and suspiciously fingers the personal belongings it contains. The couple who own the suitcase, coming home from a trip abroad, silently seethe.

It is no wonder that many people resent such treatment. Prying into private effects, like rummaging through private homes, is surely not the usual prerogative of our government.

In fact the Constitution itself, in the Fourth Amendment, forbids any "unreasonable search and seizure."

But examining your luggage at the border is an exception—and for a good reason. Bringing merchandise into the country is not your inherent right, but only a privilege, granted on terms the government may choose to impose.

The necessity of enforcing the customs laws," explained a federal court, "has always restricted the rights of privacy of those engaged in crossing the international boundary."

Furthermore, to make sure it isn't cheated, the government may be firm indeed in enforcing its rules and regulations.

One woman complained of having to disrobe (in the presence of a female official) as part of a customs search. She argued that this was improper, in the absence of any "probable cause" to believe she was hiding something.

But the court upheld the procedure, saying:

"This was a border search; and while it, as well as any other, must be lawfully conducted, different rules are applicable to search at the border and search anywhere else."

Isn't this hard on tourists? Perhaps it is. Yet, consider the practical problems of law enforcement faced by the government. Once a person gets past customs, the Fourth Amendment takes over—and the chance of catching a smuggler may be lost forever.

In one case, customs agents stopped a suspected smuggler of narcotics after he was 70 miles inside the border. Sure enough, isn't cheated, the government may be firm indeed in enforcing its rules and regulations.

One woman complained of having to disrobe (in the presence of a female official) as part of a customs search. She argued that this was improper, in the absence of any "probable cause" to believe she was hiding something.

But the court upheld the procedure, saying:

"This was a border search; and while it, as well as any other, must be lawfully conducted, different rules are applicable to search at the border and search anywhere else."

Isn't this hard on tourists? Perhaps it is. Yet, consider the practical problems of law enforcement faced by the government. Once a person gets past customs, the Fourth Amendment takes over—and the chance of catching a smuggler may be lost forever.

In one case, customs agents stopped a suspected smuggler of narcotics after he was 70 miles inside the border. Sure enough, they found heroin in his pocket. But this damning evidence was rejected in court, because the agents had searched the man without the required "probable cause."

How much better to catch such people at the border, said a federal judge, than to play hide-and-seek with them afterward.

The Role Of Your Editor Is To Prove Thinking

From time to time we face questions from our readers about our editorial page. One of the most frequent we have is that of a reader who says: "I mailed you a clipping from another publication. Why didn't you print it?"

Generally it is because the clipping is by some professional writer who gets paid for his material and we are not permitted to reprint it without payment for the copyrighted material. Occasionally it may be because the clipping is part of some propaganda campaign being conducted at the moment by some organization or other. It is recognized as propaganda because the newspaper has already received the same, or similar, mimeographed material put out strictly for propaganda purposes by people who are trying to put across a message without having to go to the expense of advertising.

We receive bales of material on the civil rights issues. Most of it is mimeographed, slanted propaganda so biased that it precludes publication. Some of it is not printable because it concerns itself with issues involved in lawsuits. We believe in trying lawsuits in the courthouse, not the newspaper.

We have received some pressure recently to drop Drew Pearson's column from the editorial page because of his occasional thrusts at Mississippi or Mississippians. Pearson is a columnist who expresses his own personal opinion. Occasionally (most often when he's writing about Mississippians) we find ourselves not in agreement with what he says. Most of his writing is provocative. But he does stimulate thinking on the part of the public. He can provoke some readers to think about the problems of the day and thus become better citizens.

As to our own editorial opinions, perhaps they are somewhat akin to those of the Missouri editor who wrote:

"A person asked this newspaper, 'Why stick your neck out?' In taking editorial stands on local controversial issues. There is no easy answer to such a question, except that we believe it is a newspaper's obligation to the public to speak out on certain issues. Certainly, such a course or news policy does not always win friends and influence people. We are not in a personality contest! We have found ourselves on the opposite side of the fence from almost everyone in town at one time or the other. . . . friends and business associates included. But still we consider it a duty, a responsibility and obligation to at least provide a marketplace for the exchange of and molding of ideas. We don't expect everyone to agree with us. . . . on the contrary, we hope that day never comes. When everyone thinks alike, no one thinks very much. We shall continue to express ourselves on the issues of the time, for occasionally we will be right, and those few contributions to the public welfare justify the need for editorial expression." —Laurel (Miss.) ## Town Abolishes 'High' Taxes

CLINTON, Conn. (AP) — This town has abolished High Taxes — at least the road with that name.

High Taxes Road was named that in 1955 by a real estate developer. Recently 30 of the road's residents got the Board of Selectment to change the name to Oakwood Lane.

Pledges to Fight U.S. Domination

MONTREAL (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said Thursday night Canada would protect itself against economic policies which threaten it with U.S. domination but does not seek economic isolationism.

"Being a sensible, practical people, we are not going to let our very real and immediate anxiety about the possibility of U.S. economic domination, enough its investments in this country, drive us into the wrong kind of economic nationalism," Pearson said in a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Pearson said "a policy of national exclusiveness, of a little travel, Jack Yates, an Ozark self-contained Canada, would not only be foolish for us; it spring commencement exercises.

Asks Congress to Raise U.S. Debt Ceiling

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department asked Congress today to raise the temporary debt ceiling to $332 billion for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

The ceiling—which was raised by Congress last year to a temporary $328 billion would drop to the permanent level of $285 billion if Congress fails to act. In the past, Congress has always lifted the ceiling although it sometimes declined to give the administration as much leeway as it requested.

In testimony prepared for a closed-door meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee, Charles L. Schultze, director of the Budget Bureau, said the deficit for the current fiscal year which ends June 30 should total $3.9 billion instead of the $6.4 billion estimated in January.

Four persons died in one crash and single accidents on Arkansas highways took the lives of three others during the weekend.

The multiple-death accident, first one reported after the weekend count of traffic fatalities by the Associated Press began at 6 p.m. Friday, occurred when a car and tractor-trailer rig collided at Lake Village. The count ended at midnight Sunday.

Miss U.S.A. Is From California

By KAY BARTLETT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miss USA said today that good manners for men are a must in her book.

"Men who have bad manners could be called my pet peeve," said Maria Judith Remenyi, who was selected Saturday night.

"I like men to be masculine," Miss Remenyi said. "I hate femininity in men."

Miss Remenyi, a 5-foot-6 brunette was born in Denmark of Hungarian parents and came to this country 10 years ago. She speaks four languages and intends to add a fifth—French—soon.

Miss Remenyi of El Cerrito, Calif., is a junior at the University of California at Berkeley. She represented her home state in a field of 49 beauties from 48 states and the District of Columbia.

Told the Course Just Beginning

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Graduating seniors of Arkansas Tech were told Sunday they are just beginning a course in human relations when they leave college.

Refuses to Order Charge for Swindle

Arkansas Supreme Court LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court refused today to order the Greene County prosecutor to file charges against the former husband of an English woman in a custody dispute.

The court rejected the request by Mrs. Valerie Day Swindle, who wanted charges filed against her ex-husband, Gerald Swindle.

Mrs. Swindle, 22, of Cheltenham, England, wanted her former husband charged for leaving Arkansas with their daughter, 3-year-old Sharon Swindle.

The child was spirited by Swindle from outside Mrs. Swindle's home in Cheltenham last year and Mrs. Swindle came to the United States seeking custody of the child.

Green e Chancery Court at Paragould, where Mrs. Swindle lives, awarded her custody of the child, but this came two days after Swindle and the child disappeared.

Swindle, 26, of Jonesboro, later turned up with the child in California. He has married again. He recently said he plans to take the child and his new wife to South Africa.

Sentence of Life Affirmed by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed a life prison sentence against Samuel Theodore Freeman in the strangulation slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Lee Owens.

Mrs. Owens' body was found in her apartment at Little Rock Dec. 6, 1964, with a cord wound around her neck. She had been dead three days.

Freeman pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. He was convicted Oct. 27, 1965.

He appealed on grounds that the evidence was not sufficient for a conviction, but the Supreme Court said that circumstantial evidence, coupled with Freeman's admission that he had lived in the apartment and that he had seen the body were enough to convict him.

The Supreme Court also affirmed a 21-year prison sentence assessed against Ollie Cox Jr. in a Paragould rape case.

Cox, a service station attendant, was charged in an attack on a 19-year-old college girl May 9, 1965. The girl had taken her family's car to the station where Cox worked for repairs.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today affirmed a Sebastian Chancery Court's dismissal of a suit contesting a school election in the Hartford School District.

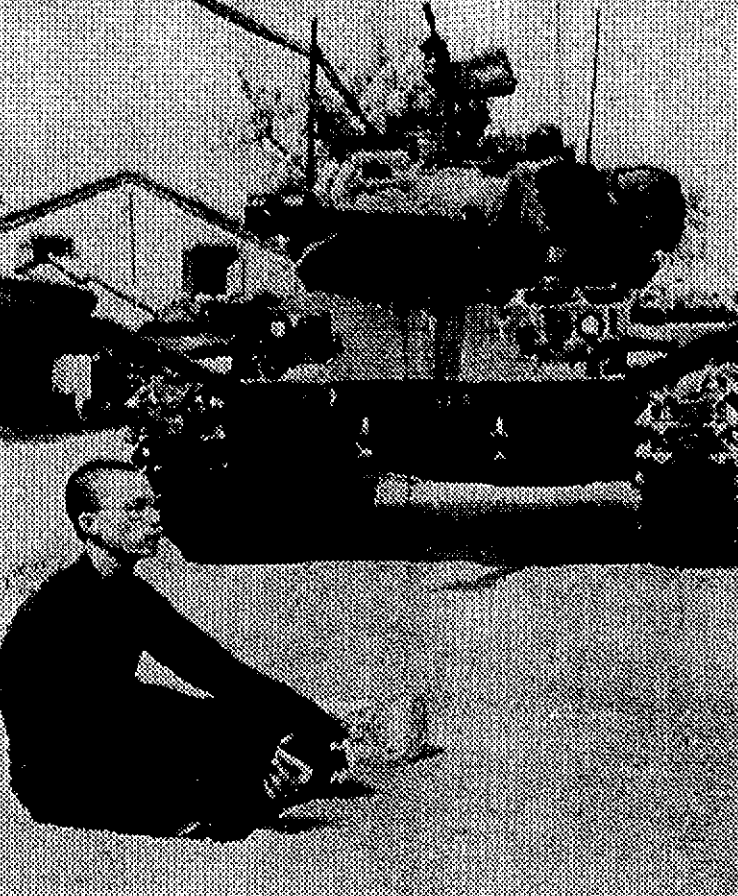

The plaintiffs, Asa Douglas and others, contended that the case should have been transferred to circuit court when the chancery court held that it was without jurisdiction to hear the suit.

The high court held that circuit courts have sole authority to try election contest suits in Arkansas, but that the chancellor had no obligation to transfer the case because the complaint failed to state a proper cause for action.

Ruling in Favor of Railway

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today a truck railroad may make "reasonably necessary" changes in work conditions to keep operating, provided the changes are strictly limited and under court supervision.

The 7-1 decision, announced by Justice William O. Douglas, affirmed the ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans last July that the Florida East Coast Railway may, under the eye of a federal court in Jacksonville, make "reasonably necessary" changes to keep operating.

The decision covers one part of the dispute in the longest strike in the history of the American railroad industry. The walkout started Jan. 23, 1963.

Van Dyke Show Gets Four Awards

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The exciting Dick Van Dyke Show triumphantly collecting four more Emmys. Nemo Bill Crosby (Thank You for Having "The Gulls") to star him. Winner Barbara Stanwyck fighting back tears.

These were among highlights of Sunday night's Television Academy Awards, a slowly paced show that nevertheless developed its own drama.

There was pathos when Paul Davis, art gallery owner, accepted an award for his wife Alice Pearce who played comic neighbor Gladys on the "Bewitched" series and died of cancer a few months ago.

"I ask you to join me in a toast to a wonderful actress, a great human being and the most delicious wife a man could've had," he said.

The nationally televised program was presented from Hollywood and New York. In New York, an award to David Lowe, producer of "KKK—The Invisible Empire," was accepted by his widow, columnist Harriet Van Horne.

The Van Dyke show tied with the Chrysler Theater, the latter including Bob Hope's Christmas special, for the most awards—four.

The Van Dyke program brought Emmys to its stars, Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore; its producer, Carl Reiner and the writers of its "Coast-to-Coast Big Mouth" episode last September 15, Bill Fersky and Sam Denoff.

Producer Reiner, accepting his Emmy, paid tribute to the show's crew and cast, including Rose Marie and Morey Amsterdam, in the Hollywood audience.

Backstage, he recalled that the show was canceled after its first year, but that executive producer Sheldon Leonard talked New York executives into renewing it. Sunday night's awards brought the show's total in five years, he said, to 16 Emmys.

Van Dyke has won three Emmys, Miss Moore two.

Miss Moore thanked everybody connected with the show for "five of the happiest years of my life."

Dick said he keeps his Emmys "on a mantel in my bedroom—where I can see 'em." The program wasn't canceled for next fall, he said. "We on the show decided that five years was a good round number and to quit before we wore out our welcome."

Truman Might Visit Israeli

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — There's a possibility former President Harry S. Truman may visit Israel in July to dedicate the Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace.

"Nothing is definite about Truman's visiting there," said his secretary, Rose Conway, who had said earlier the main consideration for the 82-year-old Truman was his health.

Pilkinton and Bryant Get Labor Help

By JOHN R. STARR

Associated Press Writer LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education listened to six of the eight Democratic candidates for governor Saturday, but decided against endorsing any of them.

After an executive session, the committee decided to remain neutral in the first primary, but will meet again July 3 to choose between the two men who will make the runoff. James H. Pilkinton was endorsed over seven other candidates for lieutenant governor, Secretary of State Kell yBryant was endorsed over his one opponent and Joe Purcell of Benton got the nod in the attorney general's race.

J. Fred Jones was chosen over Howard Cockrill for Position 2 on the state Supreme Court, but the committee took no stand in two other Supreme Court races.

Candidates from the Republican Party were not invited to the COPE meeting, but the committee will meet again in the fall to decide its positions on the general election. J. Bill Becker, AFL-CIO president, said.

Negroes Told to Forget Integration

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Negroes should forget about integration and instead work to improve their lot by organizing political parties, said the new national chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

"We feel that integration is irrelevant," said SNCC's Stokely Carmichael in an interview at his Atlanta office.

"We have got to go after political power," Carmichael, 24, said Negroes must organize their own parties because they have been denied real participation in both major political parties.

Failure of third-party efforts, he said, would "be like the last straw in terms of doing things peacefully."

Negroes, Carmichael said, will achieve nothing unless they can build a political power base—at the local level, whether in a rural Southern county or in a Northern ghetto.
